8 TAKE AWAYS

Center for Learning & Teaching

The Center for Learning and Teaching (CLT) brings an awareness of innovative teaching approaches to faculty and others who teach at Binghamton University. Our instructional designers are available to provide individual or group consultations regarding any aspect of learning and teaching, such as identifying learning goals or choosing appropriate technologies. The CLT also offers seminars, workshops, and expert speakers throughout the year.

Subject Librarians

Subject Librarians provide a range of services focusing on a particular area or discipline. They serve as liaisons between the Libraries and one or more of the University's academic departments, programs, or schools; initiate the selection and acquisition of materials for the collections; provide subject-specific instruction in the use of information resources; and provide general research assistance and specialized research consultation.

Office of International Programs

The Office of International Programs (OIP) provides support for faculty seeking innovative, collaborative, and accessible international experiences. The Office aids in the establishing of international partnerships, study abroad and exchange. Additionally, OIP works directly with faculty to enhance the international elements of their classes through Languages Across the Curriculum (LxC), the Global Studies Minor, and Collaborative Online International Learning (COIL).
