Thesis: The United States' manifestation of capitalism causes its healthcare system to be inherently flawed and prevents many of its citizens from receiving high quality healthcare because of the prioritization of privatization, surplus value and low taxes for the wealthy

Implications:

-As college students, it is important to understand why our country has a poor healthcare system and how we can improve and fix it

-Understanding the policies which can improve our healthcare system is important so that we can vote for legislators who will bring about a better healthcare system

Research Findings:

Better educating the American youth on principles of communism and socialism will lead to more widespread acceptance of single-payer healthcare

The U.S. needs to establish a public government-provided healthcare system similar to that of the NHS in the UK and must get rid of privatization within the healthcare sector
